RAMADAN Days of prayer and solemnity

Fasting, silent guns in time of Ramadan

CUTANGTANG CITY—Calls to prayer, fasting and, in Muslim areas, an appeal to keep guns silent marked the start of the holy Islamic month of Ramadan.

For Muslims in the Philippines, the observance officially begins today and will end on Sept. 11, according to Ustadh Ikhlas Ibrahim, an Islamic scholar based in this city and former director of the National Islamic Council of the Philippines.

Muslim fasting, devotion is expected to pray spend their days in solemnity and begotten especially to the poor.

A spokesperson of the Islamic House of Opinion, which advocates the conduct of religious activities, also appealed to gun owners among Filipinos Muslims to not discharge their weapons as a way to celebrate.

"Please refrain from firing your guns," Ustadh Ikhlas Ibrahim said.

SULTAN KUDARAT, Maguindanao—Ebrahim Murad, chair of the Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF), said on Tuesday his group had amassed an arsenal with help from military gunrunners and warned he was prepared for war if peace talks did not resume.

In a rare news conference at the MILF's Camp Caperasan in the midst of a coconut plantation here, Murad said that his group had at least 60,000 weapons as well as its own factory and technology to manufacture rocket-propelled grenades.

"Some of our firearms come from our enemies," Murad said. "Others we buy from gunrunners in the industry."

In Manila, however, presidential spokesperson Edwin Lacierda downplayed reports that the Aquino administration was not serious in resuming peace talks.

A FILIPINO BUSINESSMAN'S offer to acquire Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corp. (Pagcor) for $10 billion has caught the attention of two groups of investors.

The state-run gaming firm said yesterday a Hong Kong-based conglomerate engaged in real estate, hotel and casino business has expressed interest in acquiring the gaming firm.

Pagcor spokesman Jay Santiago said.

Back when Pagcor's privatization also attracted the group of businessmen Willy Ochoa, vice chair of property and gaming firm Belle Corp., according to Santiago.

"We expect that these discussions about the privatization would show the attention of other investors," he said. President Aquino lauded the privatization of Pagcor but wants the gaming firm to be in good shape first to make it sale to private business more palatable.

Bianco Ang, San Miguel Corp. vice president, said he was interested in buying Pagcor and that he could have Malaysian "big boys," including PNB Bank, to raise $10 billion to acquire Pagcor and run gaming establishments in the country.

Through his spokesperson in Manila, however, Bianco—owner of the Ilorain-La chain of luxury hotels—denied reports that he was interested in Pagcor.

Less cheating, vote-buying in May polls, says survey

MOST SURVEY Filipinos said there was less cheating and vote-buying in the May 2010 elections, compared to previous elections, a Pulse Asia survey showed.

More than 40 percent of the 1,000 adults interviewed from July 1 to 11 said there was less cheating in the recent elections, while 11 percent said there was more cheating, and 27 percent said there was much cheating, as before.

Belief that there was less cheating was most prevalent in Metro Manila and among members of metropolitan class and 64 percent, it was less prevalent among students of colleges (Collegians).

Meanwhile, 63 percent said they did not receive any offer of money or material things in exchange for their vote. This is slightly higher than the 2007 figure (57 percent), according to Pulse Asia.

Vote-buying incidence was higher in the House (35 percent), and lower in Metro Manila (9 percent), the survey said.

Seventy-two percent of respondents considered the results of the 2010 elections very credible (84 percent), and the least credible were in Mindanao, and 17 percent said there was just as credible as previous election results.

Only two percent believed the results of the 2010 election were credible, partly to the promises of Philippine President Benigno Aquino III.

The survey had a sampling error margin of plus or minus three percentage points.

Survey had 191 percent of respondents believed that most influential media personalities were fair in their election coverage. Thirty-one percent had a contrary opinion, and 39 percent were undecided on the issue.

Eighty-two percent said the coverage of news for senators, partly by proposed lead posts was lower than before. Minority percent said the coverage of news for provinces and vice-presidential candidates through press elections.

Of the 64 percent who were able to read their ballot, 36 percent took at most an hour to vote beginning with their arrival in the province and ending with the application of mobile ink on their finger. Seventy percent spent between one to two hours, and 20 percent took more than two hours to vote.

Fifty-one percent knew of registered voters who were able to vote. Fifty-five percent of them mentioned voter disenfranchisement by being late in precincts, while 46 percent mentioned it in various reasons for not voting.

GMA out as defense witness for Ampatuans

FORMER PRESIDENT Gloria Macapagal Arroyo has been removed from the list of possible witnesses for the defense in the case against the Ampatuan family members implicated in the Maguindanao massacre, according to a defense lawyer.

Lawyer Gregorio Ilagan II made the modification during the pre-trial conference of the multiple murder case before the sala of Quezon City Judge Jocelyn Bolinao.

Witnesses for the defense

Ilagan did not offer any reason for removing Arroyo from the list of prospective witnesses submitted by defense lawyers last week.

Under the rules of court, an accused can ask the court to disqualify a person as a defense witness whose would expose him or her to liability.

According to private prosecutor Henry Santos, the law and facts behind Justice Secretary Agnes Binayon that the former President "got very angry" when threatened that her name had been included in the list.

Defendants and former Justice Secretary Alvin Patrimonio and his lawyer are in the list of witnesses for the defense submitted by Santos' attorney.

"They are among 200 witnesses that the defense panel submitted before the court," the prosecution panel submitted additional list of prosecution witnesses, bringing the total number of prosecution witnesses to 227.

Business Chief State Prosecutor Rafael Anaya Ibaldo told the court the prosecution would be presenting as part of the evidence records of real estate properties the defendants in Maguindanao province and the cities of Davao, Cagayan, Marikina and Manila.

126 Asiad bets get POC nod

By Marc Gutierrez/Sports

THE PHILIPPINE Olympic Committee yesterday formally approved 126 athletes to the Guangzhou Asian Games in November and more 80 bet they expected to be added to the existing roster.

POC president Alan "Tingoy" Cojuangco Jr. said more athletes from various sports are in queue based on the Asiad criteria which is a championship in the Southeast Asian Nations or any equivalent competition.

"I can't predict anything yet because I have not met each athlete and not even the designation and basketball," Cojuangco's words have yet to qualify, but the president said that he is waiting right now. Cojuangco said the list is not final.

He said the initial preparation has been doctored with the constant rising relationship between the POC and the Philippine Olympic Committee chair, coach Rodel Garcia, now present during the POC executive board meeting.

"All I can say is that it's a lot more to do things (preparation) now," added Cojuangco, who didn't want to bet with those POC that they are going.

And, chief of mission, Jay R. Muro, said that he is waiting for the approval of the POC, which is not yet final. He said that he is waiting for the POC to be approved.

Expected to make it is the basketball team composed of 30 men and women athletes, who have to take part in the next event in Guangzhou, like the Asiad to the Asiad that includes

No conflict, says Pacman

MANNY PACQUIAO is certain his boxing career won't interfere with his duties as congressman of his hometown Pangasinan.

The seven-district congressman said he is willing to step in the ring outside his training at the Davao Foundation complex for his upcoming fight against Mexican boxer Maquico in October 12.

"I can say to my office, so that I am, I am around the complex before the undercard boxing," Pacquiao said. He said he is not going to miss any of his training.

Pacquiao said he is not going to miss any of his training, but he is not going to miss any of his training.

"I have no problem with that. What I want is just a matter of time management," he said.

According to Pangasinan, the 14th district congressman, when the House of Representatives is in session, he is going to be in the ring and he is going to be in the ring and he is going to be in the ring.

The 33-year-old fighter of the Davao said that with Maquico for the second "World Boxing Association" super welterweight championship fight in the United States in May.

Meanwhile, Ball of Fame Freddie Roach said that he is going to be in the ring for the boxing for the Philippines on Tuesday, Oct. 13 to help the Philippine boxer.

I WORE up mentally early Tuesday at the clash of arms. As was my habit, I immediately reached for my cellphone to look at the time.

It was only 7:45 a.m. too early to rise, I needed an unusual reason to wake up. I would have been in bed after the basketball off to sleep for midnight.

It was from Ryan Coogler.

"I just finished the negotiation with the PBA. What is your thinking on the PBA application?"

He said that he is going to be in the ring for the boxing for the Philippines on Tuesday, Oct. 13 to help the Philippine boxer.

Hopes dim for China flood victims

BEIJING, China—Heavy rains on Wednesday furthered a remote corner of southwestern China where water had flooded killed at least 750 people, as hopes of finding more survivors faded and rescue workers moved on from outside of disaster.

More than 1,000 people were still listed as missing in the disaster, with mud, stones and debris covering many bodies.

With the chances of finding more survivors falling by the hour, troops and rescue teams moved by helicopter to rescue survivors trapped in remaining bodies and waiting to the needs of the living. One drinking water was a primary concern, with some local residents destroyed or not permitted to use.

Rain was expected to pour heavily in coming days, with up to 90 millimeters forecast for Friday, the National Meteorological Center said.

The disaster struck in a remote area of southwestern China, where the flood victims were "relatively poor," it said.

SAN MIGUEL CORP. is set to embark on a radical new project that, if successful, could mean the end of the periodic flooding that brings the streets of Metro Manila to a standstill several times each year.

According to SMC president Ramon S. Ang, the conglomerate is now proposing a flood control project—costing at least $960 million... that would have the effect of improving overall economic productivity of the metropolitan region.

The SMC deal pointed out that the project would "save billions of pesos" worth of properties, equipment and productive man-hours lost due to major flooding incidents that occur on periodically during the rainy season. "This will really be a big help to the country and our people," he said in an interview with the two-week magazine "if there is no more flooding, there will be no more damage to property, less loss of getting stuck in traffic, and so people would be able to work at jobs faster."

Under a build-operate-transfer proposal, SMC will put up three facilities to control flooding in Metro Manila: the Laguna Lakebasin Dike (LLD) project, a dam in Marikina River ($40 million), and a tollway to Marikina City ($174 million).

The second objective of the proposal is to "level another massive flooding that destroyed personal properties and wiped out livelihood and working capital of small and medium enterprises."

According to Ang, SMC would not even start from the flood control scheme. The conglomerate would instead be given its incentives through the Laguna Lake reclamation project in Taguig City as well as attached railway concession.

Given the incentives on private entities seeking sustained land, SMC may have to enter into a long-term partnership with government with respect to the lake like the long-gestating of Taguig City on the Laguna Lake Development Authority.

Such makes sense because a 3,000-hectare reclamation of the lake—whose shoreline is

Dev't plan thrust still on jobs, infra work

Six-year MTPDP to address interests of 'those left behind'

By Ronald M. Domingo

THE NEW Medium-Term Philippine Development Plan that will replace the one expiring this year will continue to focus on job creation and infrastructure investment to provide jobs to those who have been left behind from the country's growth.

Socioeconomic Planning Secretary Capistrano W. Padilla Jr. said the thrust of the direct, special plan for 2011-2016 would be on inclusive growth.

"The plan will address the interests of those who are left behind (amid growth of the country's economy)," said Padilla, who is also director general of the National Economic and Development Authority. "We need to make sure that the vulnerable sectors are provided for. In that sense, government spending in the following years will be aimed at stimulating continued growth."

Earlier this week, Padilla said the media would push for the decentralized making of the new MTPDP, steering the implementation of impact from regions outside Metro Manila.

He added that the media would spearhead the implementation of the Regional Development Council (RDC) toward decentralized planning.

The country's 80 provinces are grouped into 11 administrative regions, including the Insular Region or Manila-Mindanao and the Cordillera Administrative Region.

The MTPDP for 2011-2016 is based on the creation of two million new jobs, as well as creating three million more employment.

Padilla said expenditures in the RDC will come from various sources, such as farmers and fisherfolk, indigenous people, youth, women, children, academics, vulnerable groups, academics and students.

"It is vital that regional law agencies reach those with their respective (national office) to help the regional beneficiaries of national budget and the localities of strategic priority projects in the regions," he said.

RP lenders now more attractive to gov't

WITH THE country now doing over a billion plus dollars' worth of remittance from Filipinos based abroad and actively growing foreign direct and portfolio investments.

The country's GDP as of early July stood at $45.8 billion, the IMF said in its latest report. The amount would be enough to cover the country's needs of the small imports.

Based on international benchmarks, a country's GDP would be considered healthy if its foreign currency reserves could cover at least two months of imports.

The statement from the central bank chief came amid reports that the government intended to reduce its share of foreign-currency-denominated loans to its overall debt.

The DOF said the government would borrow more in pesos and less in dollars and other foreign currencies to reduce its exposure to foreign-exchange risks.

National Treasurer Roberto Tan said that in 2011 the government would adopt a borrowing mix of 70-30 in favor of peso-denominated loans.

QINGDAO MILK manufacturer

Alaska Milk Corp. reported its second quarter net profit by 22 percent, year-on-year to P22 million on a combination of high oil prices and reduced input costs.

This brought AMC's net income for the first half of the year to P1.06 billion, 70 percent higher than a year ago, AMC disclosed in the Philippine Stock Exchange on Wednesday.

The sales grew by 6 percent in the second quarter to P2.64 billion on volume growth across core liquid and powdered milk products.

Sales volume of liquid milk increased with price increase, as evidenced by sales of double-digest milk. Sales volume of the powdered milk business line also sustained a healthy growth rate due to continued brand-building activities. Similarly, sales volume of other food products, ready-to-drink milk and ready-to-use products, remained solid, adding contributing efforts to within the management team.

This brought net sales for the first half of the year to P5.03 billion, 9 percent higher than year ago.

AMC also said that year of sales and operating expenses for the second quarter grew at a slower pace of 1 percent year-on-year to P2.21 billion on account of stable raw material prices and continuing improvement in operating efficiency.

Security Bank net income rises 30%

SECURITY BANK Corp. posted

net income for the first quarter of 2011 of P2.5 billion, up 30 percent year-over-year to P1.9 billion.

The increase was consistent with the 32 percent compound annual growth rate in its net income over the past five years, the bank said in a statement.

In terms of equity, the placed at 19.4 percent, while return on assets was 2.5 percent.

In the first quarter, the bank reported an 11 percent growth in revenue, by income margin improved 22 basis points to 4.5 percent. Year-to-date operating revenues, excluding provisions for credit and impairment losses, reached P5.1 billion, up by 6.4

percent, to P52.1 billion, less the same period last year.

The bank's nonperforming asset ratio was at 1.4 percent, with a corresponding NPL cover of 277 percent. Total capital adequacy ratio was 18.4 percent.

To date, Security Bank's share price stood at P71.00 or P74 at the start of the year.

BPI on growth mode, scouting for acquisition targets

By David C. Duran

IFOLA LED BANK of the Philippine Islands, the country's most established bank, plans to scale up business over the next five years by growing its loan portfolio while scouting for merger and acquisition deals.

BPI, which made its last acquisition in 2003 when it bought the Asian family bank Prudential Bank, and it was now in a "growth" mode.

An ongoing P10-billion stock rights offering is part of the expansion exercise, bank president Ramon Montolio III said in a briefing on the sidelines of the 3rd Corporate Treasury Summit held by FinanceAsia in Manila.

"In the past, we followed just in-line capital raising. Maybe now, when we're doing it, we believe in-line capital raising," Montolio said, noting that the time was right to raise funds.

The additional capital, Montolio said, would give BPI the leeway to pursue "any interesting development," such as the acquisition of a bank portfolio or another company.

"We look at the prospect, let's the start of a new decade There's also an interest in there would be opportunities in those fields. There will be the possibility in the certain cases or groups of individuals will decide to concentrate on other areas and that other area is not banking, so there will be an opportunity for us," Montolio said.
